

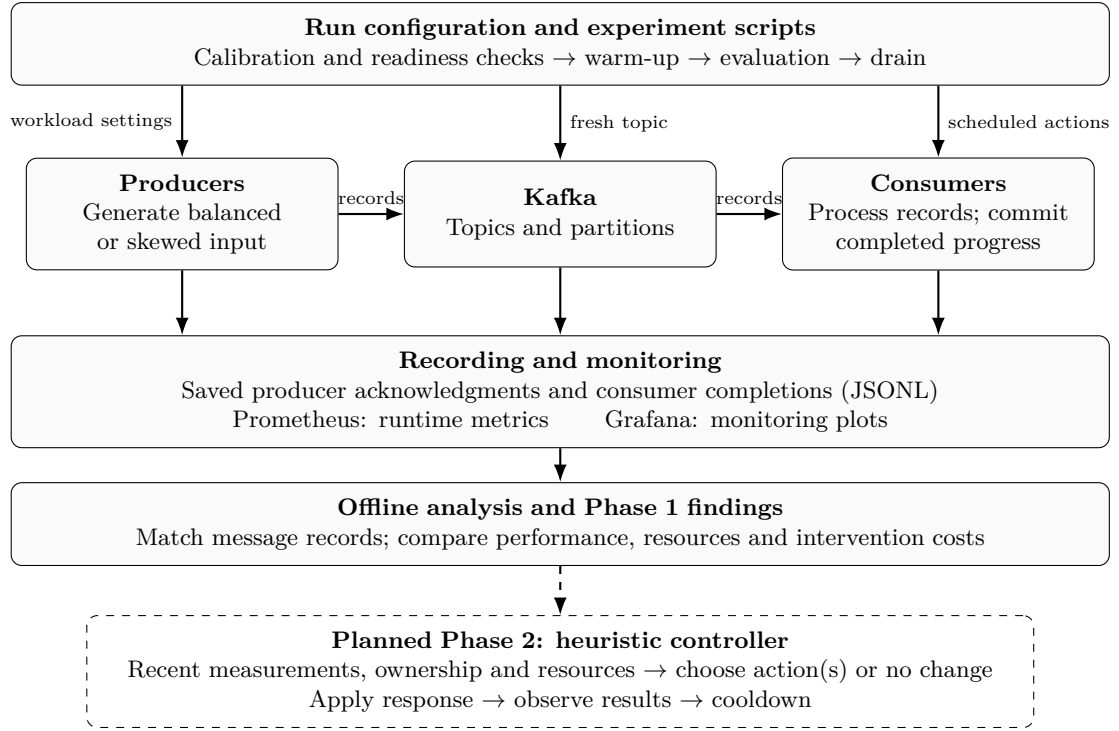

Figure 1: System architecture and experimental workflow. Solid boxes show the current pipeline and experiment procedure. The dashed box shows the planned controller, which will coordinate consumer scaling, partition reassignment or permitted hot-key splitting. The current trials use scheduled actions.